三、阅读理解（共 20 小题，每小题 2 分，满分 40 分）

As Sam slowly woke, he got a funny feeling in his stomach. He knew he would have to do something that he had been afraid to do for a long time.

The school bus came on time, and he sat with his friend, Billy. They chatted about baseball. It was a great way to get his mind off what he had to do later. As they got close to the school, he could feel his heartbeating. His hands were starting to sweat. He hated this!

He entered Mrs. Owen's class. She was smiling, and saying hello to all her students as she did every morning.

"Hi, Sam!" she said as he walked in.

"Hi," he said and quickly sat in his seat. Then the class began to take their spelling test. He looked at the clock. The time was near. He hoped he was not the first! Mrs. Owens said it was time to begin their special day.

"Sam, you'll be first." Mrs. Owens said to the class, "Sam has worked very hard on his report on Hawaii, and I know it is very interesting."

Sam nervously greeted his class. Then, he thought about the fun things he had read about surfing, volcanoes, and pineapples in Hawaii, and he started to talk. He talked in front of the whole class, and it was fun. The class clapped as he finished and Mrs. Owens was smiling. It wasn't terrible at all and he knew he would do better the next time.

46. How did Sam feel after he woke?

- A. Excited. B. Nervous. C. Happy. D.

Hungry.

47. What did Sam have to do that day?

- A. To have a baseball match.
B. To take a reading test.
C. To go to a new class.
D. To do something special.

48. Why were Sam's hands starting to sweat when he got close to the school?

- A. Because he was in such a hurry.
B. Because it was such a hot day.
C. Because he was feeling nervous.
D. Because he feels tired after the long walk,

49. Which could be inferred from this passage?

- A. Sam hated chatting about baseball.
B. Sam learned about Hawaii by travelling.
C. Mrs. Owens is unfriendly to her students.
D. The class enjoyed Sam's talk very much.

50. Which is the best title for this passage?

- A. A special day B. An interesting lesson
C. A nice teacher D. A professional report

① After months of hard work, it's time to have fun during the summer holiday! If you are still planning what you are going to do during the days, why not enjoy a visit to a theme (主题) park.

② Lots of theme parks have roller coasters (过山车). A roller coaster is anything that may appear dangerous while in fact, it's perfectly safe for family fun as long as you are over the height of 48 inches. If you like heart-stopping thrills, this "scream machine" is your best choice. For example, Kingda Ka is a steel roller coaster located at Six Flags Great Escape in the United States. It is the world's tallest roller coaster, the world's second fastest roller coaster. Riding this roller coaster makes you feel like you are flying. One second you may be looking at the sky and the next you are looking straight down at the ground!

③ Does this sound scary (惊悚的) to you? If so, we will take you to other theme parks around the world. Ocean Park in Hong Kong is the first stop. You can walk through an underwater tunnel as sharks swim overhead or watch a dolphin swimming show. Besides, cable cars will carry you more than 200 metres to the top of the park.

④ Europa-Park is another good choice. If you think a few days are not enough to travel through Europe, this theme park in Germany will show you what other European countries are like. Europa-Park has 12 country-themed areas. You can first ride French bobsleds (雪橇), then eat Greek sandwiches and then take a roller coaster based on the Russian space station—all in one day! Besides, Europa-Park is very real. The street lights in the Spanish part are from Spain and the small houses in the Swiss part come from Switzerland.

⑤ Our last stop is Universal's Islands in the US, a world-famous dinosaur theme park. If you are a fan of dinosaurs, it is just the place for you. You can have an unforgettable experience and see dinosaurs in their natural homes. But be careful! Escaping from the terrible mouth of a hungry dinosaur is a 26-metre drop into the darkest darkness!

51. It's a good choice to _____ if you like heart-stopping thrills.

A. ride a roller coaster

B. invent a machine to scream

C. look at the sky

D. look straight down

52. _____ will take you to the highest point of Ocean Park.

A. An underground

B. A cable car

C. A tunnel

D. A 200-metre rope

53. You can enjoy the activities in Europa-Park except _____.

A. riding French bobsleds

B. eating Greek sandwiches

C. visiting Russian space station

D. watching Spanish street lights

54. You have to _____ to escape from a hungry dinosaur.

A. become a crazy fan of dinosaurs.

B. see dinosaurs in their natural homes.

C. run into the dinosaur's mouth.

D. jump from an extremely high place.

The world has a big headache and it's caused by money. It began in America last year and it's traveled around the world helped by the speed of the Internet.

In just a few short months billions and billions of dollars have disappeared. They just vanished (消失) into thin air. How can this be? Well, to understand that, you have to understand the idea of "value". The "value" of something is what someone is willing to pay for it. That's easy when it comes to buying a bottle of green tea. You wouldn't pay more than a few kuai. But what about something like a house?

In America, houses are expensive. People have to get loans (贷款) in order to buy them. To get a loan you have to have a good job so the lender knows you're going to pay the money back, but America started making it easier for people to get loans. That meant more people could buy houses. The demand (要求) for houses increased their "value" so their prices went up and people had to get bigger loans to buy them. Of course, many of these people couldn't afford to pay back the bigger loans. So the banks couldn't get their money back, the prices of houses went down and all that "value" disappeared.

Now the banks are out of money and governments around the world have had to step in and save them.

What does this all mean? Well, with the banks in trouble there is less money to invest (投资) and less money for people to buy things. That means less business, fewer jobs and more unemployment. It's a big headache for everyone and aspirin can't heal (使恢复正常) it.

56. According to the passage, what happened to millions of dollars in just a short time?

- A. They were invested heavily in some factories.
- B. They disappeared.
- C. They were given away to the poor people.
- D. They were spent on houses.

57. How can you get a loan in America?

- A. You need to buy a house.
- B. You need to have a good job.
- C. You need to make a lot of money.
- D. You need to have a house.

58. Why couldn't banks get their money back?

- A. Because people get loans more easily.
- B. Because the prices of the house went down.
- C. Because government stepped in.

D. Because many people couldn't afford to pay back the bigger loans.

59. Which of the following is NOT a problem with the bank in trouble?

- A. There is less money in invest.
- B. There is less money for people to buy things.
- C. There are fewer jobs.
- D. There are fewer houses.

60. What is "aspirin" in the last paragraph?

- A. Food.
- B. Drink.
- C. Medicine.
- D. Fruit.

书面表达

Let's Start With the Things Around Us!

Recently, the "Clean Plate Campaign" has been very popular with many people. Our government is doing its best to build an economized society.

As a middle school student, I think we should join in the campaign. We can start with the things around us. First of all, make sure that the lights are turned off when we finish our work and leave the room. Secondly, we can save as much paper as possible. Besides, it is important for us to form the habit of turning off the tap after it is used. What's more, we must not spend money buying unnecessary things. When we eat, we'd better not use one-off chopsticks and we mustn't waste food.

In a word, saving energy is very important. Let's work together from now on!
